

Example of a WaxArt Mediumship for Maui island (08.08.23)

Deeply affected by the news of the fires that devastated the historic community of Lahaina in Maui, I've got the urge to heal and so connect with a beloved heiau, sacred place in Hawaii. Here is the example of how I proceeded with a spiritual connection.

First I get an hint/inspiration from a poem, from words written in a book, on a card, etc.

"Bright sun shining warm and new Strong as Spirit's love for you"

(by Jackie Whittaker)

A visual/spiritual sight comes: a Phoenix. I begin to do some automatic inspired writing.

Be restored after suffering calamity/disaster. The Phoenix gives you courage, strength and ability (strong within your cells) to overcome the effects of these destructions (on bodys, spirits, feelings) and regenerate life.

Then a Celtic Shamanic Vision comes: The Tree of Vision and Tradition. The automatic writing goes on.

I've got very clearly the vision of the old huge banian tree of Lahaina/Maui

Going through all the 3 worlds (the Lower World, the Middle World and the Upper World), linked to this tree, is a demanding task: be rigorous. A shaman/medium can climb on it, have an overview of the coming world and relate to humans the events taking places in others dimensions.

Very spontaneously, comes a sketch of the tree with a beating heart in the center of the trunk, very strong pulsing heart.

Then I paint the WaxArt Card with encaustic technique. And through it, I read the image, giving hints.

The flames have freed the souls in purgation: stagnated for ages, now in transition, in movement of liberating re-birth. The 2 white souls pass through a narrow path (image of a vagina iridescent with red/yellow/green), to go towards the light (image of a birth).

A 2nd conch/cornucopia type surrounds the white beings. Many movements of colors, of vibrations, the red, yellow flames transform into liberating green, re-new. A green Heart is forming at the top of the image. A wave/wall/partition of red, purple prints a movement of funds, a larger force. It is a liberating disaster!

Finally I summarize the message and write it on the back of the card.

Liberating Disaster

Flames have released the souls in purgation.

It is a liberating disaster.

Backed by Maui's determination

They are pushed through this Phoenix transformation.

All is for the best.
